

The FCC should not lessen the Indiana telephone privacy law. If anything the FCC should make it a national one. Before the law I was disturbed by nuisance phone calls every three nights. This is extreemly bad for me and my family as I am on "call" at night, and a phone call at night could be major problem at work.